LOS ANGELES DAILY TIMES.

VOL. II. LOS ANGELES, CALIFORNIA, SUNDAY MORNING, JUNE 4, 1882. NO. 1.

AFTERNOON DISPATCHES

Arthur is going to Surprise Everybody by a Brilliant Stroke.

General Garibaldi Dead—The Strikers—Fuero Whips the Apaches Again—A Bishop on Lady Land Leaguers.

Associated Press Dispatches.]

CHICAGO, June 3.—A Washington special says that a private letter from New York was received here to-day from a gentleman in political life, who has been with the President the most of the time for the past week. He says that the administration has a surprise in store for the public, which will be disclosed upon his return. The plan, according to the gentleman, is this: Lowell is to return from the London mission. His resignation is already on the way. Frelinghuysen will then adopt a foreign policy which shall be as advantageous to the administration as that of Blaine was to himself. Secretary Folger is to become the Republican nominee for Governor of New York, and Don Cameron, as one means of healing the break in Pennsylvania politics, is to succeed Folger as Secretary of the Treasury. This is the story, some parts of which may be verified by the events.

THE TEXAS CAMPAIGN.

WASHINGTON, June 2.—Leading Republicans of Texas have received a circular from Washington instructing them to consolidate all elements in favor of Wash Jones for Governor, and to forward lists of all counties which can be carried by the Republicans, and to state the amount of money necessary for the campaign.

NICARAGUA SHIP CANAL.

Farley presented in the Senate yesterday a memorial signed by the Boards of Trade of San Francisco and Portland and the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, favoring the passage of the Nicaragua Canal bill.

VOLUNTEER MEDICAL OFFICERS.

The Secretary of War holds that service in the volunteer service does not hold good in computing the length of service in the case of medical officers, unless they have served the full three years. Heretofore it has been held that the service should count equally.

PUBLIC DEBT STATEMENT.

The public debt statement shows a decrease of debt during May of $10,375,441; cash in the treasury is $242,103,768; gold certificates outstanding, $5,055,420; silver certificates, $66,736,220; certificates of deposit, $12,330,000; refunding certificates, $476,500; legal tenders, $346,681,016; fractional currency, $7,044,503; cash balance available, $144,441,876.

GUITEAU'S CASE.

WASHINGTON, June 3.—No opinion can be delivered on Reed's last motion in the Guiteau case until Monday. It is believed the decision will be a very short one, and no donbt is entertained that the motion will be positively denied.

THE ALABAMA CASE.

The House resumed the consideration of the Alabama contested election case, Wheeler being accorded the floor to close the argument in his own behalf.

ON SPECIAL DUTY.

Lieut. Danenhower has been ordered on special duty here.

Gen. Garibald i Dead.

ROME, June 3.—General Garibaldi died at 6:30 o'clock last evening. A previous dispatch said the General was lying very ill with bronchitis, at Caprera; that his conditlon was precarious, and that all the members of his family in Rome and Genoa had left for his bedside.

The death of Garibaldi produced an immense impression. The session of the Municipal Council adjourned on the arrival of the news, and the performances in the theaters stopped. A great popular demonstration of sorrow will be arranged. The Chamber of Deputies will adjourn. King Humbert sent a dispatch to Menotti Garibaldi deploring the loss his family and his country had sustained.

Severe on Lady Land Leaguers.

CLEVELAND, O., June 3.—Bishop Gilmour has written a letter to be read in all the Catholic churches in this diocese at mass next Sunday morning excommunicating any Catholic lady who shall hereafter attend any meeting of the lady's branch of the Land League, or become a member thereof. The Bishop denounces that branch as calculated to make brawling politicians of women, and their membership there is incompatible with womanly modesty.

Because He was a Mason.

DENVER, Col., June 3.—Father Raverty, Vicar-General to the Bishop of this diocese to-day refused to allow the rites of the Catholic Church to be administered over the remains of the late Don Miguel Ottero, millionaire and one of the foremost men of Mexico. The reason alleged is that Ottero died a Mason. A member of the Masonic order, assisted by an Episcopal clergyman, conducted the burial services.

Lynching a Ravisher.

CATLESBURG, Ky., June. 3.—A mob of 300 masked men this morning came by rail from Ashland and took George Ellis out of jail at this place. They took him to Ashland, near the scene of the murder of the Gibbons girls, and hanged him to a sycamore tree. Geo. Ellis was convicted of manslaughter yesterday on an indictment for the murder of these girls. It was on his testimony that William Neil and Ellis Croft, who are now in jail at Lexington, were convicted. George Ellis and these two were raken by the river from Cattlesburg, under military escor, last January to escape the mob.

Expedition Against the Apaches.

DALLAS, June 3.—The Adjutant-General of Texas will lead four companies of rangers into the Guadalupe mountains to head off the Apaches congregating there for a raid.

COAST DISPATCHES.

About the Alta Miners—How They Escaped.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 3.—A Virginia City dispatch says that six men penetrated the Alta drift with refreshments for the imprisoned miners. All wore ice helmets, to enable them to pass the belt of 300 feet of foul air between the entrance and the end of the drift. The prisoners were found in comparatively good condition. They had turned water from the drift into their ice-water keg, and when emptied, twisted the end of the compressed air-pipe into the barrel, and standing around breathed the air thus cooled as it arose through the water. About midnight all were removed from the drift, the whistles along the road signaling the event. The bodies of Bennett and Callahan, who perished attempting their rescue by the boat, have been recovered.

KILLED IN A LAND DISPUTE.

DALLES, Oregon, June 3.—In a dispute yesterday at Lone Rock, over the possession of land, W. H. Caldwell shot and instantly killed J. P. Fenton. Caldwell surrendered himself. He claims that he acted in self-defense.

INVESTIGATING A MARSHAL.

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., June 2.—Two special agents, Bower and Tidball, have been to Las Vegas, Santa Fe and Albuquerque investigating the affairs of John Sherman, United States Marshal for New Mexico. They proceeded to Prescott to examine the marshal's office there; they will also look into the charges preferred against Judge Porter.

FUERO WHIPS THE INDIANS AGAIN.

SANTA FE, June 3.—A Chihuahua dispatch states that General Fuero, commander of the Mexican troops in Chihuahua, with four hundred Mexican cavalry surprised and attacked the Juh band of renegade Apaches early on the morning of the 25th, near Bosque de Santiago, and whipped them unmercifully. Thirty-seven bucks were killed, ten taken prisoners, and the entire camp outfit, including fifty head of cattle was captured. The Mexican loss was one officer and ten men. The losses sustained in the previous fight with the United States and Mexican troops leaves the hostiles badly demoralized.

CAPITAL AND LABOR.

What the Strikers Are Doing—The Circle Extending.

PITTSBURG, June 3.—Nothing new transpired in the iron workers trouble yesterday. Business men and tradesmen express confidence that the curtailed production will stiffen the market and that the scale will then be raised.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, June 3.—Advices from the leading mills in Ohio report that the works nearly all will be shut down.

NEW YORK, June 2.—Nine hundred striking boiler makers returned to work in the various shops here and in Brooklyn yesterday. By Monday it is said there will be at least 1,500 men at work at the various shops at the increased wages.

DES MOINES, June 3.—The brickmakers, numbering over 500, have struck for a 25 cents raise of wages. The employers are not likely to concede the demand.

ALL QUIET IN CHICAGO.

CHICAGO, June 3.—There is little change in the situation in the strike this evening. The police have made several arrests of persons supposed to have been concerned in the riot at Brighton. The evidence is not conclusive.

Modesty of a Detroit Man.

The other night a policeman observed a man hanging around the entrance to a Michigan-avenue hall in a queer sort of a way, and he asked him if he belonged to the Order then in session up stairs? "The man replied that he did, and the officer inquired:

"Then why don't you go up?"

"Well, I was thinking of it."

"Haven't been expelled, have you?"

"Oh, no!"

"Aren't afraid of anybody?"

"No.'

"And you haven't lost your interest?"

"I might as well tell you," said the man, after beating around a while longer. "I went down to Toledo a few days ago, and somehow the story came back here that I was drowned. My lodge thereupon passed resolutions to the effect that I was honest, upright and liberal, and a shining ornament, and that what was its loss was my gain. I wasn't drowned, as you see, but I kind o' hate to walk in on 'em and bust those resolutions. I've tried it three times, and I can't get higher up than the fifth stair before I weaken."—Detroit Free Press.

There are 10,700 acres of land in wheat in the lower division of Roberts Island. The crop is in fine condition. On some portions the yield will not be less than forty bushels to the acre.

Heading has already been commenced in the vicinity of Winters. The grain looks well and will make a very fair yield. The farmers are also harvesting in other portions of Yolo county.

A young would-be wit in Lewiston, Me., who attempted to chaff a half-intoxicated lumberman, was greeted with: "I mind my own business. I know what you are. We make No. 2. clothes-pins out of such stock as you up our way. You git!"

Count (to his servant)—"John I have noticed that since your wife's death you come home drunk every evening. Why is this?" John—"I am only trying to console myself for my loss." Count—"And how long is this going to last?" John—"Oh, sir, I am inconsolable."

Colonel Ingersoll says it is absurd to ask him to believe that seven men could or did blow down the walls of Jericho with rams' horns. Well, then, why does the Colonel try to blow down all the churches in America with only his own good strong breath? Hadn't he better wait for reinforcements?—Burlington Hawkeye.

THE SECOND VOLUME.

With this issue the TIMES enters upon its second volume. It has been a surprise even to its publishers that its success has been so great and so marked. The course it has taken in upholding and fostering the best interests of our section, in speaking and laboring for the right, has caused a hearty response from the people of this city and has had the effect of crowding our advertising columns and filling the pages of our subscription books. The TIMES has reached a circulation far exceeding our most sanguine expectations, and having passed the most crucial period of a newspaper's existence, we breathe more freely and with greater confidence in the assurance of a continued prosperity. One of the elements which has contributed largely to its unexampled success is the freedom of its columns from personal bickerings and newspaper controversies. The vituperation and low billingsgate which has been poured out from certain disreputable sources has only had the effect of raising up friends from unexpected quarters, and has recoiled to the disadvantage of the parties who uttered it. We thank our many patrons for their generous and hearty support, and we will seek to merit more fully their patronage and good-will in the future by continuing to give a first-class paper, and in striving for the right.

ANOTHER COMSTOCK HORROR.

The peril of the miners in the Alta mine, Virginia, Nevada, and the loss of the brave men who went to their rescue, reminds us of the many deaths chargeable to the Comstock mines since their discovery in 1859. We think hardly a week has passed but what some person there has met with a sudden death, and in most instances by mutilation or the indescribable horrors of suffocation. Often they have gone to their doom in pairs, or half a dozen at a time—sometimes by the dozen. And the moral wrecks far exceed those of a physical nature. Time was when a gentleman well acquainted with Virginia City declared that if a shed were built to cover it all, it would be pretty nearly one big bawdy-house, with all the accompanying demoralizations. Thousands have left there their fortunes, their virtue and their lives. Bonanza Mackey once said of the Comstock that not one person in one hundred had been benefited by its discovery. Had he said that ninety-nine in one hundred had been ruined, he would have spoken close upon the truth. If a competence, and sobriety, and virtue, and life are worth anything, all the gold and silver taken from the Comstock, or yet within its bosom, would not pay for a tithe of the wrecks within its shafts and tunnels, and in the maelstroms in all the streets and alleys above them. True, a few have got rich, but it has mainly been done by taking money from the masses by a system of legal robbery—villainous swindles, worse than that of highway robbery. Not a mine pays a dividend but the robbery process goes on, and the victims continue to fall, their horrible taking off having no effect to deter others from rushing in to fill their places, and in turn soon to disappear.

HORRIBLE!

A telegram from Asheville, N. C., tells one of those horrible tales that the vice of social drink is responsible for, and which is bad enough to arouse a nation against the habit, and all who aid or abet it. A farmer named T. Eastman got on a spree, and had his supply of blue ruin in a bottle at home, finding which his little six-year-old daughter drank from it and got drunk, following the example set by the parent. The drunken beast of a father found her in that condition, dragged her from the bed and beat her to death. Probably the brute will be hung, but a license will be granted for the evil spirit that wrought the frenzy to commit the deed, to continue the business and make other brutal fathers.

THE Presbyterian General Assembly in Springfield, Illinois, voted to send out thirty young men to foreign missions. We suggest they be detailed for duty in New York and San Francisco.

OLIVE OIL.

In an article on the cultivation of the olive, Elwood Cooper, Esq., alludes to the elasticity and vigor of the Grecians and Romans, and these qualities, without doubt, were produced by the constant use of olive oil among the ancients. Unlike all animal fat that is injurious to the stomach and thins the blood, it assists the digestion, and permits the body to develop correctly, and the brain to reach the highest stage of human intelligence. He concludes the beneficial effect that olive oil has over the human organism, cannot be disputed. Other authorities state that in countries where it is produced olive oil is largely used as food, replacing butter, not only with bread, but in cooking, especially for frying; like other fixed oils, it is very nutritious, but it is not readily digested by weak stomachs. In manufacturing, the fruit is crushed to a pulp in a mill, and placed in coarse sacks, which are stacked one upon another and subject to pressure; the oil flows into a cistern containing water, from the surface of which it is dipped; this first pressing is called virgin oil; a second quality is obtained by mixing the pulp with boiling water, replacing them, and submitting them to greater pressure than before. If the fruit is left in heaps until it ferments, it yields a greater quantity of oil, but of very poor quality.

SAVE THE HAY AND STRAW.

Those who can grow hay or straw should use the utmost economy to save it, as at the present outlook they will command good prices until the coming of the next harvest, a twelve-month from now. It has been the custom with many to burn their straw. This is always wasteful, and to do it this year will be wickedly so. It will always pay for feed, and in the event of late rains, straw will command a good price, and save stock that else may perish. We can do no better friendship for our farmer friends than advise them to save every spear of hay and straw for possible emergencies, or money.

OUR FAIR.

Shall It be Held, or Shall We Allow It to Die?

The question as to whether there will be a fair held at Los Angeles this coming Fall is yet an open one. So far as we are able to learn the Board of Directors have made no arrangements for its being held, because of the lack of a guarantee fund of its financial success. The fair last fall so far as respects finances was a failure, though the exhibition was a good one, and richly deserved the patronage of our people. Why it did not receive that patronage has already been discussed in these columns, and the influences which militated against it have been removed. It is not expected of the directors that they shall individually shoulder the responsibility of the fair, and either put their hands in their pockets or saddle a debt upon the association—which does not now owe a dollar—in the event of a failure. It is expected, however, that the people of this city, who will receive substantial benefit from the holding of a fair, will aid the directory in their efforts to benefit the city and the surrounding country. Perhaps some of our readers may not understand the situation of the board, and what is dependent upon their action. The Legislature has divided the State into districts for the purpose of holding district fairs. The sixth district embraces the counties of San Diego, San Bernardino, Los Angeles, Ventura, Santa Barbara and Kern. The fair may be held at any point in the district as may be agreed upon by the directors, and by reason of the first steps being taken by Los Angeles, and she being the most central point, this place has been selected by the board as the place for holding such fairs, the directory being composed mainly of Los Angeles men, six of the eight members having their residence in this county, one in San Bernardino and one in Santa Barbara. The act makes it obligatory upon the board to hold one fair every year. If by any reason they fail to do so the association ceases to exist—is defunct. The matter now stands about in this wise: The board is not sure of State aid this fall; the expense of holding the fair will be about $2,500. In view of last year's experience, it is nothing more than right that the board should have a guarantee fund; without it, the fair will not be held, and the association ceases to exist; then another section of the district may apply for and procure the organization of another society and locate the fair where they choose. Let it be plainly understood that if the fair is not held in Los Angeles this fall, we lose it entirely. This we cannot afford. Los Angeles must not lose any of her prestige. What we say in reference to losing the fair is not idle talk, but is susceptible of proof. It is now known to those who have taken the trouble to inquire, that a committee of the directors visited San Bernardino in response to an invitation from the people of that place with reference to holding the fair there. An enthusiastic meeting was held, and when a canvass of the town was made for subscriptions, four individuals were found who subscribed $250 each. The first effort showed a result of about $1,700, and those who had the matter in charge pledged themselves to raise $4,000. The canvass went on successfully for a few days when it suddenly stopped, and word was sent to the committee that they didn't want the fair, or something to that effect. Now why was this word sent after, perhaps, half the amount was subscribed and their resources not half exhausted? It requires no stretch of the imagination or clairvoyant power to discern the Senegambian obscured in that little transaction. Their reasoning was simply this: If we do not make it possible for the district to hold a fair it will not be held. If not held, the association dies, and we will rehabilitate it and have the fair all to ourselves.

We don't blame San Bernardino for acting thus, but if our people stand idly by and allow the association to die, thus losing to us the fair for all time, we shall surely have cause to blame our own people.

Arizona's Argument.

GRANT (A. T.), June 3.—A general court-martial, of which Colonel Shafter of the 1st infantry is president, convened here on the 5th instant. It promises to be an important one, and with many cases for trial. Captain Overton, of the 6th cavalry, has just arrived with eleven prisoners, including an Indian scout, known as No. 11, who is to be tried for participation in the Cibicu massacre.

LAST NIGHT'S DISPATCHES

Gossip About the Jury Being "Fixed" in the Star Route Cases.

Report of the Indian Doings in Arizona—Heavy Rainfall in Illinois—San Diego Delegates to San Jose.

Associated Press Dispatches.]

WASHINGTON, June 3.—There is a great deal of gossip among lawyers here about the jury chosen to try the star route cases. The Government seems to be overmatched by the counsel for defense, and it is asserted that the jury is not at all objectionable to the members of the ring. How much basis there is for the report that the jury has been fixed for acquittal can't be determined in advance of the presentation of evidence and rendering of the verdict. The charge appears at present to be most unjust and indecent.

DEMONETIZING SILVER.

The evening Critic says: Among several Senate amendments proposed to the House bill extending the charters of the national banks that of Beck, relating to silver certificates and coin is most important. A close examination of the House bill reveals the fact that it embodies a covert scheme for the practical demonetization of silver.

INDIAN DAMAGES.

General Sherman has submitted to the Secretary of War his report of the board appointed to investigate as to the number of people killed and property stolen, etc., during the recent Indian outbreak in Arizona. Total killed, 42; wounded, 9. The depredations committed, as reported by scitizens, involved a total loss of stock and other property to the value of $30,250.

TO PREVENT BLACKMAIL.

A bill recently introduced by Senator Chilcott, of Colorado, provides that when an adverse claim is filed against a mining patent, the parties contesting the patent shall, in case they fail to sustain their claim by proof, be liable to the applicant for the patent or his grantees for the bill of expenses of damages which shall be incurred by or result from the filing of such protest or objection. The object of this bill is to prevent annoyances and actual blackmail against applicants for patents.

LOW SEATED FROM ALABAMA.

The House adjourned early this this morning, having seated Wm. M. Low, Greenback-Republican, in the contested seat occupied by Gen. Geo. Wheeler as a representative from the 8th Alabama District, by a vote of 149 to 3. The Republicans say the Democrats for the past two weeks have made for their party a record that will more than——[A hiatus here occurs. Probably the next word was a hard one.]

CONGRESSIONAL PROCEEDINGS.

Next week the regular business will be taken up. On Monday the suspension of the rules will be in order, and the General Deficiency Appropriation Bill will be considered the day following. The contested election case of Small vs. Tillman, from the 5th South Carolina District, has been considered by the sub-Committee of Elections, and it is expected a report in favor of Small will be made to the House from the full committee early in the week.

APPROPRIATIONS.

Hiscock, Chairman of the appropriation Committee, said to-day that he didn't believe all the appropriations for the support of the Government would be made until after the expiration of the fiscal year. Twenty-seven days only remain before the end of the year. The General Deficiency, Legislative, Executive, and Judicial Appropriation bills are reported to the House, waiting its action on the Pension bill which is ready to be reported. Sundry Civil bills have been approved the sub-Committee, and will be agreed to by the full committee next week. The Naval Appropriation bill, which is in the hands of Robeson, of New Jersey, is nearly ready to be reported to the full committee. Some of these bills will go through the House without delay, and others will be the subjects of long discussion.

Boiler Explosion.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., June 3.—A boiler engine at Norrie, Wis., exploded killing the fireman Henry Hopkins, and blowing the engineer, name unknown, to atoms, fatally hurting Fred Otle and injured four others so that there are doubts as to their recovery.

A Heavy Rainfall.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., June 3.—The heaviest rainfall in the last four years has been since the first of May to date. A fraction over fourteen inches has fallen. The streams in the vicinity are greatly swollen, and the bottom lands are overflowed and the bridges gone. Some loss of stock is reported and the damage to crops is considerable. The railroads centering here are greatly interrupted but are now getting in order again, and all damages will be repaired before Monday morning.

The Old, Old Story.

DECATUR (Ill.), June 3.—A kerosene oil can exploded at the residence of Alexander Adams, at three o'clock last night, and set fire to three children, burning them to death. The accident was caused by attempting to fill a lamp while burning.

Situation Unchanged.

PITTSBURG, June 3.—The labor situation has undergone no material change in the last forty-eight hours.

A Busted Britisher.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 3.—The British Steamer Straithairly, which recently arrived here with 1,056 Chinese, has been measured and found to have a legal carrying capacity of only 320, an overplus of 326. A fifty dollars per head penalty will eat up the profits of the voyage.

A LECTURE.

Delivered by Prof. Moses at Good Templar Hall May 30.

Position of the University of California Under the New Constitution—You will Find it of Interest.

[Concluded.]

But what ought to be the relation between the grammar schools and the local colleges or high schools, on the one hand, and between these latter institutions and the University on the other? There are, it is clear, two general answers to this question. One is that the different classes of schools—the grammar schools, the intermediate institutions, and the University—should each be independent and complete in itself; should fix its own conditions of admission; and should hold its own examinations to determine the fitness of candidates to enter. The other answer is, that all classes of schools should be regarded as parts of one system, of one comprehensive institution, and that a successful completion of the courses in the schools of one grade should entitle the pupil, without any further examination, to pass into the classes of the schools of the next higher grade. The successful completion of the prescribed courses of the grammar school should entitle the student to enter the high school or local college, or academy, and the completion of the work of the high school should be a passport, without further question, to the University. If we presuppose a general supervision by which the instruction in the lower schools is kept up to a required standard, I hold this last to be the proper answer of the question, and to indicate the relation that ought to exist between the different classes of schools in the State. I therefore am disposed to look upon the local examinations held by the University this year simply as a transition measure, and as a step toward that condition of affairs in which the University will respect different schools, their courses of study and methods of teaching, and, having approved of them, admit students to university instruction on the recommendation and certificate of the principal or superintendent, that they have completed successfully one of the courses accepted as preparatory to the University. This, to my mind, is the ideal relation of the University to the intermediate schools, but to determine whether or not it will ever become the actual relation, involves powers of prophetic vision to which I have not yet attained. I only know that it is a relation which ought to exist, and if established would afford an effectual impulse to the growth of the University, and furnish to the several parts of the State an incentive to a more zealous and generous patronage of genuine education.

In what I have already said, I have stated the position of the University in the existing system of public education; and here arises the question as to the desirability of continuing it in this position. On this point there is hardly ground for a divided opinion. After careful consideration it will be clearly seen that if our educational system is to rest on anything like an independent basis, there must be provided within the commonwealth opportunities for attaining the highest culture and learning demanded by the age. The high schools and local colleges must necessarily furnish the highest education which the great body of the people can be expected to receive; they, therefore, exercise a more direct and powerful influence on the character of our society at large than any other part of our educational system, and the people are consequently immediately interested in keeping them in the position of the greatest possible efficiency. To do this, teachers must be secured who have had the advantage of a higher grade of instruction than that furnished in the schools about to be subjected to their control, and such teachers may be obtained from two sources: they may be drawn from other States, or they may be taken from the men and women who have received a University educatioh under the influence of our own social traditions. To employ as teachers in our high schools and academies only graduates of the colleges and universities of the older States, might give us a broader and less provincial character than we should otherwise possess, but if we rely on this source we shall not always be timely supplied, and the inevitable result will be the degradation of our intermediate instruction. If, therefore, the University had no other reason for existence than furnishing means for the proper maintenance of the intermediate and lower schools, it would not, even under such circumstances, need to stand apologetically before the people. But in our State and under our peculiar circumstances there are other and far greater needs of genuine and thorough university instruction; and the provision which the State has made for furnishing this instruction by establishing the University and bringing it into its present order, appears from many points of view an exceedingly wise provision.

Admitting, then, the need of this higher instruction, as has been done almost unanimously by the people of California, the position which the University has firmly attained is to be approved on various grounds. Of these I shall call attention to but one: It secures that unity and centralization of the facilities for the higher education, demanded by public economy. To distribute these facilities over the State, to make several centers of thorough University instruction, is to multiply expenses without multiplying advantages. To duplicate or triplicate the University in this State, would be to duplicate or triplicate the cost of a department of the public organization, which, under the most favorable conditions, is expensive. As long as the higher teaching was confined to the humanities, and to literary and philosophical topics, it was relatively but little more expensive than that of the intermediate and lower schools. But when the whole realm of modern science was added to the curriculum, the Universities were involved in expenses hitherto unparalleled. But, notwithstanding, the need of elaborate and costly apparatus in the advanced departments of scientific teaching; by far the largest item of expense in modern higher education, is the service of competent instructors, and this is relatively greater in the University than in the lower schools, because of the greater division of labor necessitated by the special nature of the instruction. The position of the University as the sole institution of the State for providing the highest instruction, commends itself to us, then, because in it this instruction may be unified and centralized and thus rendered at a minimum of expense with a maximum of advantage.

Again, the University has not only attained the exceedingly favorable position under the law which I have already indicated, but it has also made such a degree of advancement in its organization and practical working that if the progress that has been maintained hitherto is continued, and it continues to receive the undivided support of the State, it will remain for generations to come without a successful rival in all this vast region of the Pacific States. And this fact, the possession of an institution of learning that will continue to stand conspicuously above all others this side of the Rocky Mountains, will be of considerable importance to the State in fostering the higher interests of its social well-being. It will attract the youth of the neighboring states, and those states will thus become tributary to its support. It will tend to attract from other states, moreover, an addition to our population needed to counterbalance the influx of those drawn hither by the fabulous stories of our unbounded wealth. It will introduce among the people a leavening influence that will permeate the commonwealth, and tend to diffuse a knowledge of the principles essential to the wise government of society. It will help to give an upward trend to socialprogress under circumstances where the contrary influences are exceedingly powerful; and it will be a living and conspicuous evidence to which one can ever refer as an indication that our interests are not altogether material.

California is destined by its geographical and natural condition to possess almost unbounded wealth; it has the limitless stores of its undeveloped resources, and its Golden Gate opens on the accumulated riches of the Orient; but to those who are to come after us the accumulation of riches will not appear as the chief glory of these early years; they will the rather wonder at the fact that a population of avowed gold-seekers were able to turn aside in the heat of their absorbing pursuit and establish, through an elaborate educational system, culminating in a University, the essential conditions of social order and the sure means of attaining an exalted degree of civilization.

GARIBALDI.

The Old Patriot Dead—A Sketch of His Life.

The telegraph yesterday brought us the information of the death of General Guiseppe Garibaldi, the Italian patriot, at the age of 75. He was born on the 4th of July, 1807, at Nice, a seaport on the Mediterranean. His father was a mariner, and young Garibaldi was educated to the same profession. On his second voyage he went to Rome, and at that time became interested in the condition of its people, and was led into revolutionary views, which resulted in his being exiled from there in 1834. He has been a conspicuous figure in history since that date. After several adventures in the Mediterranean, which partook somewhat of the character of filibustering expeditions, he was captured and tortured, but finally escaped and reached South America and was conspicuous in the siege of Montevidio, which place he helped to save. He returned to the vicinity of his nativity in 1848, and from that date until about 1870 he was active as a soldier, and held many conspicuous positions in the struggles of the people against oppression. He organized two expeditions against Rome, but was in both instances made a prisoner. On the establishment of the French Republic he offered his services to the government of the national defense, and was made a General of Division. In 1871 he was elected as deputy to the national assembly from Paris, but he soon after resigned his seat and command, and retired to his island home. Caprera, which has been celebrated as the residence of the patriot, and in the future will be remembered as being the place of his sepulture, is a small island off the north-east coast of Sardinia, and contains but 6,700 acres. And thither will be drawn in the future the oppressed of his countrymen to weep o'er the grave of a brave and noble, if not a successful man, who fought for liberty.

At the seventeenth mile one of the contestants fell and sprained his ankle, and was obliged to leave the track. The other, who at the time was four laps ahead, completed his twentieth mile, when his opponent gave up the race. Time, 2 hours and 5 minutes. Fish, the winner, obtained the first prize at the six-day contest in Los Angeles some time ago.

For Borrowing Money.

A couple of gentlemen appeared at the Police Court for a warrant of arrest of a man whom one of them had loaned forty dollars, and for which there seemed to be no prospect of payment. It appears that he borrowed the money on the strength of a check he had on the St. Helena bank. When the check was presented for payment the bank refused to cash it on the good ground that it covered no amount to the drafter's name in their vault, but he said there would be some money on hand when the pay car came. It was not deemed sufficient evidence to issue a warrant.

Manufacturing Meeting.

The regular meeting of the society for the promotion of manufactures will be held in Union Hall to-morrow evening at 7:30 o'clock, when the committee appointed to gather statistics with reference to the advantages of Los Angeles as a manufacturing point are expected to make their report. This society aims to build up the interests of the city in every conceivable way, and should receive the assistance of every citizen having the welfare of the city at heart. One of the members was appointed a committee of one at the last meeting to call on business men and others and urge them to become members. The membership fee is only one dollar per annum, payable at any time during the year. Surely it is an investment that will return a handsome dividend to every business man, capitalist, mechanic and artisan in the city.

As a tribute of regard and good will to the employes, and appreciation of their efficient aid in the upbuilding of the institution, Mr. M. S. Baker, of the City Foundry and Machine Shop, tendered to his employes a banquet last evening at the Cosmopolitan Hotel. The viands were characteristic of Mr. Baker's well known liberality, ample, varied, and comprising the richest delicacies obtainable, and it is needless to say the boys did full justice to their merits. Before commencing, Mr. Baker remarked that he was sorry his partner, J. G. Bower, was unavoidably absent, and after a few more appropriate remarks invited the boys to "pitch in to their hearts' content" and if they desired anything different to ask for it without hesitation. Mr. E. A. Leach, of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, paid a very high tribute to the courtesy, liberality and enterprise of the gentlemen comprising the firm, and was followed by H. J. Loso and Henry Rainier, two of the employes, who also testified to the cordial relations existing between the proprietors and employes, after which the discussion of the viands commenced in earnest. At the close of the banquet the employes expressed themselves under great obligation to Mr. Baker for his whole-souled liberality. Following is a list of the employes present: N. A. Friday noon Rev. Father Peter Verdaguer received a notice from Rev. Father James Beela, at Santa Barbara, Vicar-General of this diocese, that Bishop Mora was seriously ill at some point in Tulare county. From the news it is supposed that he met with some kind of an accident while driving over some rough roads in that portion of the country, possibly from the overturning of a buggy, but this is not positively known. Father Verdaguer left on the northern bound train yesterday evening to meet Father Beela at Newhall, when they went on to Tulare county to the place where the Bishop lies.

SUMMONS.

IN THE SUPERIOR COURT.

Of the State of California, in and for the county of Los Angeles.

George Shires, Plaintiff, vs. Jacob M. Rogers, Leonard M. Ladd & Thomas Williams, Defendants.

ACTION BROUGHT in the Superior Court of the State of California, in and for the county of Los Angeles, and the complaint filed in said county of Los Angeles, in the office of the Clerk of said Superior Court.

The People of the State of California send greeting to Jacob M. Rogers, Leonard Ladd and Thomas Williams, Defendants:

You are hereby required to appear in an action brought against you by the above named plaintiff in the Superior Court of the State of California, in and for the county of Los Angeles, and to answer the complaint filed therein, within ten days (exclusive of the day of service) after the service on you of this Summons—if served within this county; or, if served elsewhere, within thirty days—or judgment by default will be taken against you according to the prayer of said complaint.

The said action is brought to obtain a decree of this Court for the foreclosure of a certain mortgage described in the said complaint, and executed by the said Jacob M. Rogers on the 5th day of September, A. D. 1877, to secure the payment of a certain promissory note for the sum of $400 gold coin, with interest thereon at the rate of two per cent per month from date until paid, said interest to be paid monthly, and if not so paid to be added to principal and bear like interest, beside seventy-five dollars attorney's fees in enforcing payment of this note; that the premises conveyed by said mortgage may be sold, and the proceeds applied to the payment of $350 balance due on said note as principal, with interest at the rate of 2 per cent per month from October 5th, 1881, and for $75, attorney's fees provided for in said note and mortgage, and costs of suit, and in case such proceeds are not sufficient to pay the same, then to obtain an execution against said Jacob M. Rogers for the balance remaining due, and also that the defendant and all persons claiming by, through or under them may be barred and foreclosed of all right, title, claim, lien, equity of redemption and interest in and to said mortgaged premises, and for other and further relief. Reference is had to complaint for particulars.

And you are hereby notified that if you fail to appear and answer the said complaint as above required, the said plaintiff will apply to the Court for the relief demanded in the said complaint.

{SEAL.} Given under my hand and the Seal of the Superior Court of the State of California, in and for the county of Los Angeles, this 19th day of April, in the year of our Lord, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-two.

IN THE SUPERIOR COURT

Of the County of Los Angeles, State of California.

In the matter of J. C. McCollum, an insolvent debtor.

J. C. McCOLLUM having filed in this Court his petition, schedule, and inventory in insolvency, by which it appears that he is an insolvent debtor, the said J. C.
